Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

As a result of increased demands for high-quality products from modern food markets, industry and policymakers have focused their efforts on the regulation and production of safe and nutritious foods. To this end, FAO identified five crucial factors for advancements of food quality, namely: food safety and health benefits, corporate social responsibility, production systems and innovations, sustainability, and food origins. In order to meet the abovementioned demands, current food innovations are mostly concerned with technical and scientific engineering focused on processing and new product designs.

This Special Issue welcomes papers with the aims and scopes of sustainable technological advancements for food quality.

All visitors and participants of 2nd International Conference on Advanced Production and Processing (ICAPP) receive 20% article processing charge discount, just make sure to mention 2nd International Conference on Advanced Production and Processing (ICAPP) and Prof. Bursać Kovačević, Prof. Putnik, Prof. Tomašević in your Cover Letters during submission.
